Not Just Small Changes

That pretty much hits the nail on the head. With a new principal, new rules, new students, and starting next year, a new school, it's not just a small change.

It's not just small changes for the students, Freshman just entering high school, and Seniors preparing to leave it. Sophmores and Juniors trapped in the middle but still being affected by this coming and going of friends, enemies, and anonymous classmates.

It's not just small changes for the teachers. Losing old pupils and gaining new ones. Being confronted by classrooms of new students, just so eager to learn.

It's not just small changes for our principal. This is the first year for Bart Kramer, the oldest freshmen in Falls Church.

It's not just small changes for the school itself. With repairs and restorations the students and administrators will see their school twist and evolve into something new and different. A change the seniors of this year may never see.

They say the only thing that remains constant is change, and for better or for worse at least change is change, especially when it's not just small changes.

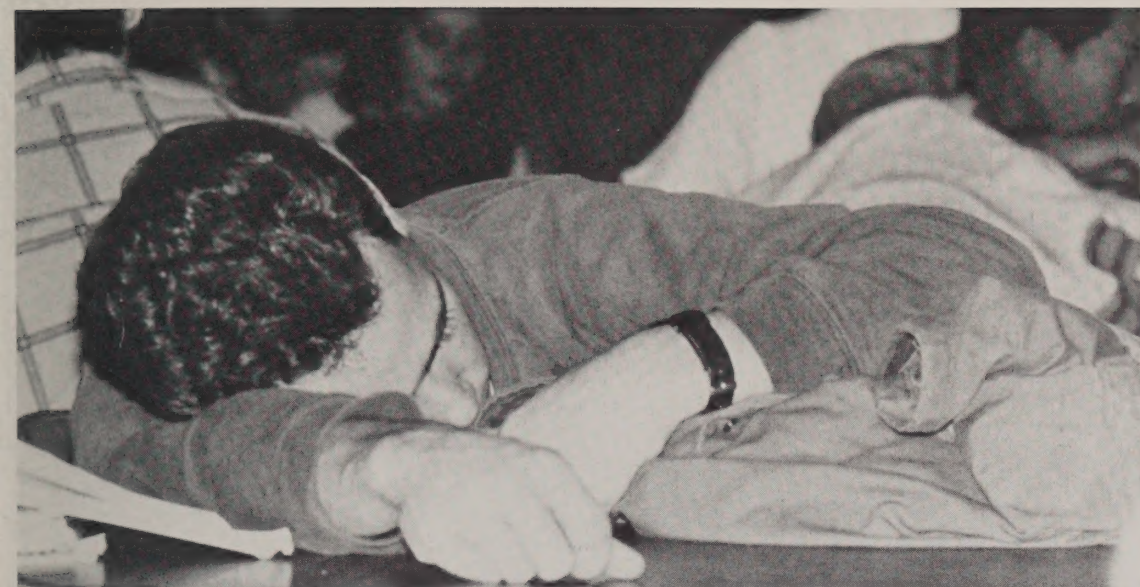

Spirit here is definitely improving as these seniors go on to win the spirit contest at the homecoming pep rally.

Juniors got an early start on fundraising and had a touch of class to clean up their act.

Surprisingly, the Freshmen have a lot of spirit this year. Too bad they didn't show it for hall decorating.

It's hard to get back into the routine of school as displayed by a tired John Daly.

Amy Evans and Ian Bramson go back in time to learn the birds and the bees from Mr. Lundsford.

CHANGE

Not all people were ready to return to school as shown by senior Chris Embrey and our favorite sub, Mrs. Pietrzak.

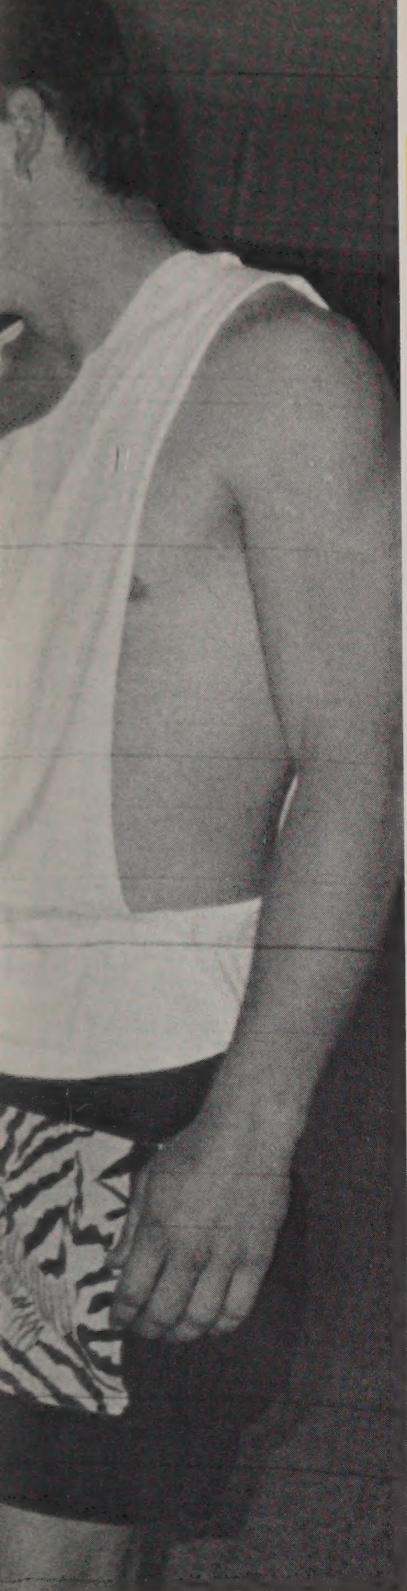

When all the halls were empty Steve Eisle got a head start on his homework.

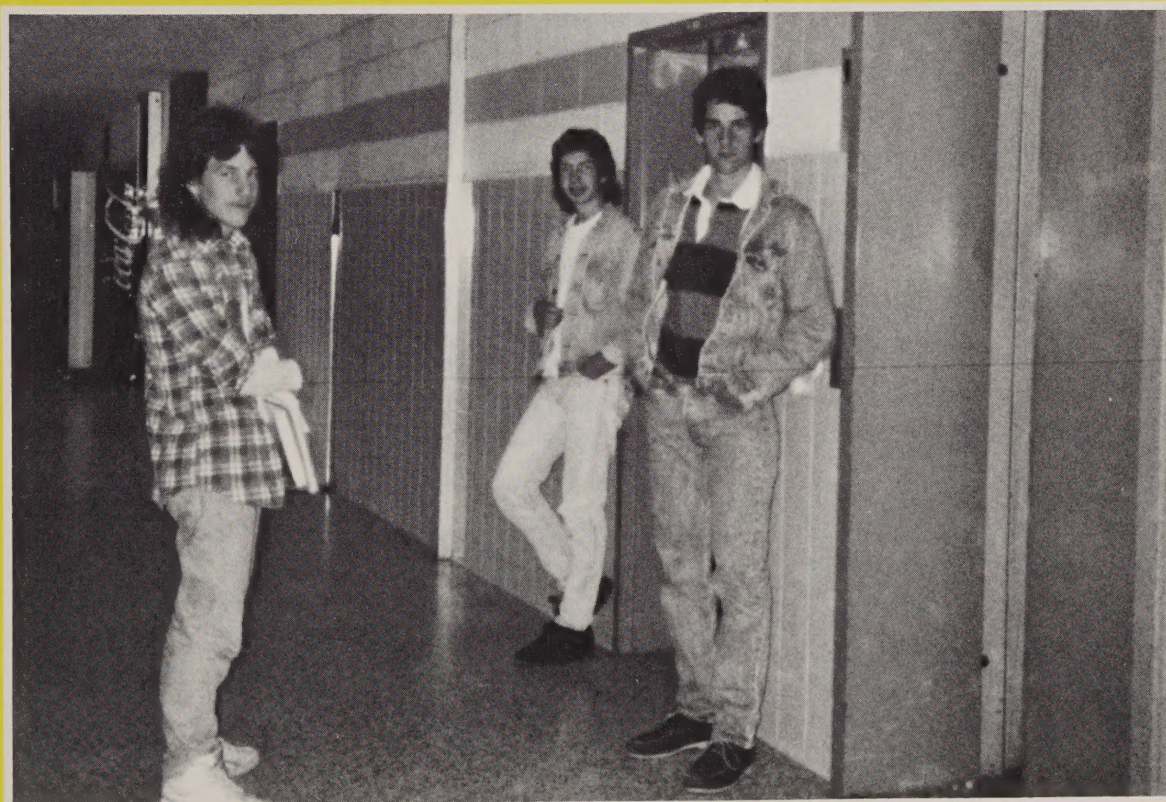

It takes dedicated people like those in the band to give their all for their school.

Linda Whitney, Crystal Moore, Veronica Nibblins and Peter Tran were frequently seen walking the halls 6th period.

Jeremy Chism, Kevin Marchum and Will Casey waiting patiently for the elevator.

SENIORS? SO WHAT?

Congratulations Seniors! You've finally made it to twelfth grade and don't you feel important? But wait, what makes being 'on top' so special?

Let's assume you pass. What if your grades aren't the greatest or your SAT's keep you out of the college of your choice. What then? Well there's always the Marines, if you don't mind some guy screaming things in your face about your mother.

On the other hand you could pass with excellent grades and breeze right through college. What then? Now you're trapped in a dead-end job with little chance of advancement and you have to pay for your own coffee.

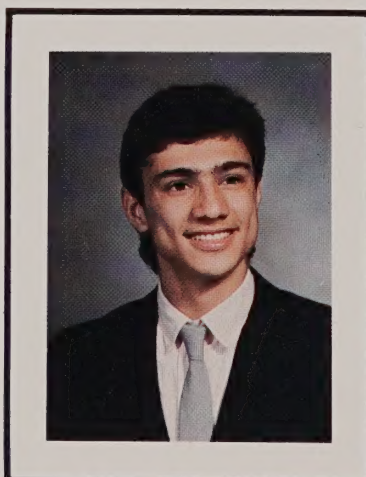

Now think about all the lucky underclassmen. Secure in thier little high school lives. Not having to worry about graduation announcements or ordering a cap and gown. No ulcers over who are you going to ask to prom, that's not for another couple of years. No senior slump. No sleepless nights over selective service registration, or late car payments, or any payments for that matter.

Then again they do have to worry about all that later. And they have to get their parents to drive them to football games and dances, that is if they buck up enough bravado to even go to a dance or a football game. And when you're on a date you never have to worry about your mother turning around and yelling, "Do I make a right or a left?!"

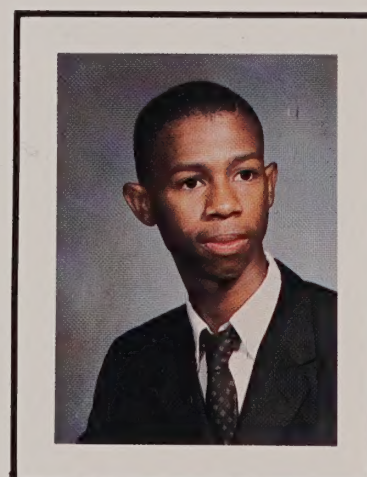

In fact being a Senior feels pretty good. Sure there's stuff to worry about, but that's practice for being an adult. Not that there's anything wrong with underclassmen, I mean other than the confused glaze and the suicidal scramble for their next class, they're not that bad. Besides, if there were no underclassmen, being a Senior wouldn't feel all that important.

Today is the Day

Well today is the day
You know the one we thought
Would never get here
The one that seemed so Far away

The day where all of our dreams
Are supposed to go into affect

Today is the day
We look back
As the pictures
Fill our minds
Full of the past

The days we've left behind
They may have been good
They may have been bad
But the days ahead
Will be the best
We'll ever have

So now is the time
For the Class of '88
To come together
And join in the Celebration of our GRADUATION

IS THIS THE END?

Life in school has been pretty tough. Homework, hard teachers, and hot classrooms add up to a rough twelve years. Well, now we're at the end of our climb, and we're standing at the edge of that bluff, ready for that first step, which by the way, is a steep one.

How many seniors are ready for college? Or a job? Or even marriage and kids? How many of your friends already have colleges to go to? Or a job waiting? Have their ticket to Paris Island, South Carolina.

For some, graduation is an important process, something that seniors have been working hard for. Senior Michele Parks thinks so. "After twelve years of school I expect something out of it." Others view graduation as just another hurdle to jump on the track of life. "Graduation is just another ritual, just another phase to get through," says senior, Joey Wintz.

Most seniors by now have post-graduation down pat and some even have their whole future under wraps. "I'll probably go to Nova for a year, then transfer to the University of Florida and major in business, most likely real estate," says Keith Yesukaitis.

So maybe graduation isn't so bleak, maybe there is life after high school. No matter how it ends we can all empathies with senior Michele Parks when she says, "I'm going to miss my friends the most."

During Pride Week, in mid-October, Lan Nguyen showed her spirit on vacation day. Lan gets a little more creative and thirsty during American Civ.

The most dedicated juniors came to hall decorating and stayed until 9pm ! They did a 1st rate job, and went on to win 2nd place.

The juniors could have won the spirit contest if more stayed after school and made posters for the pep rally like Stephanie Weber.

87-88 Sophomore Class SG Representatives, from top: Didem Turker, Rob Dalkin, Amy Evans, Dee Cartwright, Sara Dickerson, Kathy Quang, Judith Gough

According to our questionnaire the Sophomore class is a lot more spirited this year than in the past. The majority of people said that they have been involved in class activities, such as the class meetings. When asked if ENOUGH people were involved in the Sophomore class, SG Officer, Judith Gough, said that "There can never be enough people involved." That's the kind of attitude that has made the sophomores a much better class this year. When asked what the best thing about being a Sophomore was, just about everyone said: "NOT being a Freshmen". When asked what the worse thing was, most people answered: "Not being an upperclassmen"

When Mike Wiles was asked, "In what ways is being a Sophomore better than being a Freshmen?", he responded "In ALL ways!!" Obviously, the Sophomore class is not a big fan of the freshmen! Further testimony to this fact is Kevin Hylton's response to the "What would you say to next year's Sophomores when you are a Junior?" His answer? "You may not be Freshmen anymore, but we're STILL your superiors!" Well, I think the final question on our survey pretty much sums up the Sophomore class. "What tree would you pick to represent the Sophomore class?" The answer: "The acorn tree, we're all just a bunch of nuts!"

This year, after much time and consideration, we have picked two outstanding Sophomores, a boy and a girl, to be featured in the 87-88 yearbook.

David Anderson and Christine Schilling came highly recommended to us by their teachers and peers, and we think they deserve some recognition.

David is in the French and Key clubs. He managed field hockey and is on both the math and wrestling teams but, more importantly, he finds time to be a major participant in Sophomore class activities.

Dave is getting straight A's this quarter which may not seem like any great feat until you look at his class schedule. He is bogged down with homework from classes like GT French II, GT English, GT Biology, Algebra II-Trig, and Computer Science.

"Dave is like everybody's best friend. He's there when you need him.", says Judith Gough, "but when you don't, he just fades into the background." "Everybody knows Dave." added class president Ian Bramson.

Dave plans to attend college and go into mathematics or science after which he looks forward to "a loving wife and happy children."

Christine Schilling deserves recognition in her own right as well. She balances her time between the swim team, her ballet and dance classes, and being the photo editor for the Fairfax Olympian. This is all after she finishes homework for GT English, GT Biology, French II, Algebra II, and Journalism.

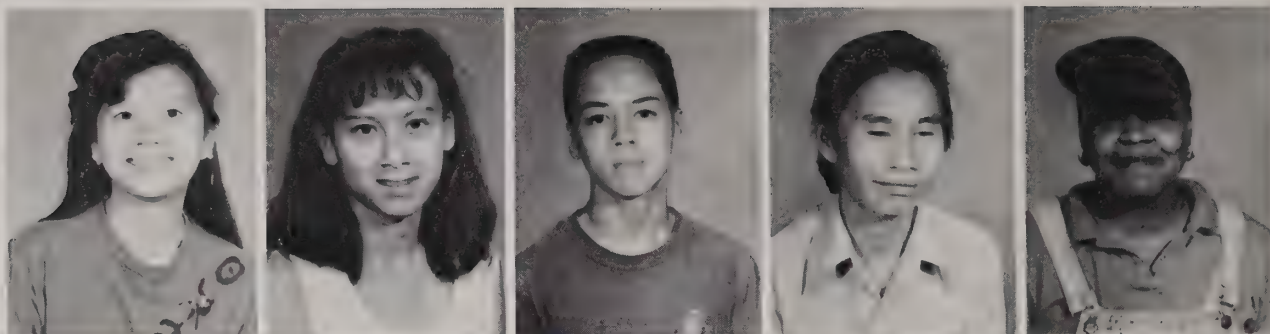

Christine is getting B's and B+'s in her classes. She hopes to go into some field of journalism or english. "I'm going to try to get into William and Mary, that's where I really want to go." she says, hopefully.

Dave happily completes his assignment.

Ever wondered what the sophomores think? We took a survey in an effort to find out. Questions ranged from favorite music to favorite foods and sports. The results were interesting, though not that unpredictable.

Answers in the "favorite class" category varied. English had the most votes, classes such as chorus, band, and art were second, and math had the fewest. A few people apparently had no tough choices to make since they wrote "none" on the questionnaire.

Football won by a landslide in the favorite sport category, outnumbering baseball (which was 2nd) by more than 2 to 1. Sports which recieved the fewest votes were soccer, wrestling, volleyball, and gymnastics.

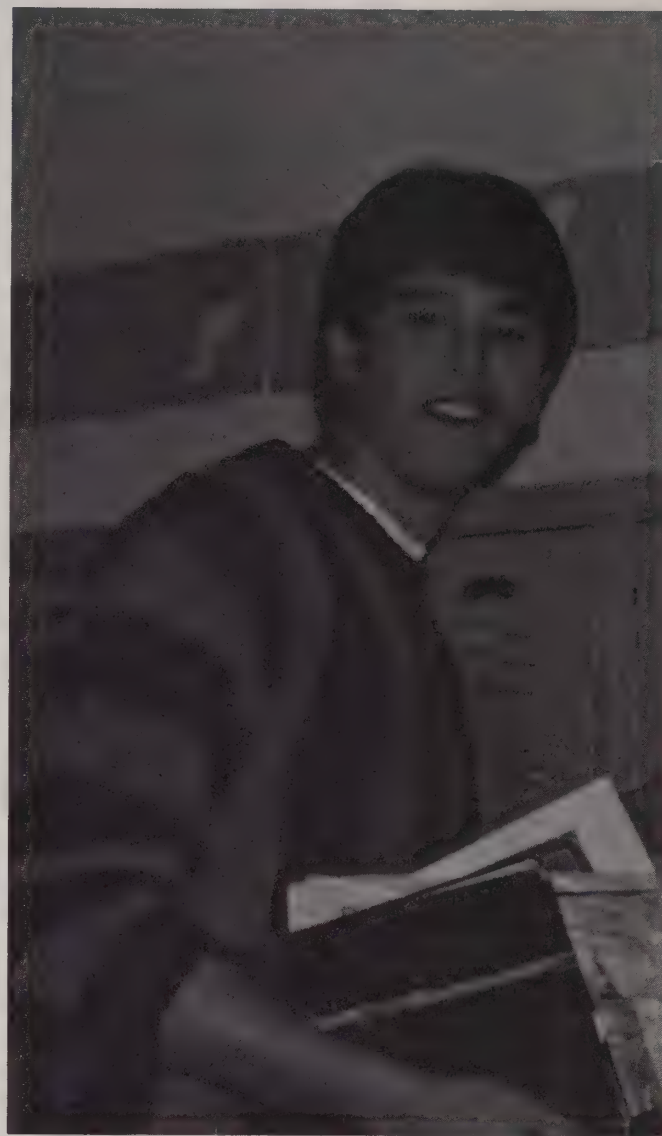

In the favorite food category, seafood and Italian rated highest. Other answers were "french fries", "cookies", and "ANY dessert". Specific Italian foods mentioned were pizza, spaghetti, and lasagna. Lobster and shrimp topped off the seafoods.

Motley Crue and Bon Jovi led the music category, followed by appearances by Fleetwood Mac, U2, Madonna, and the Smiths (I've never heard of them, have you?!).

At the time of the survey, Fatal Attraction was the favorite movie, along with The Princess Bride and Like Father, Like Son.

The top TV shows were The Cosby Show, Growing Pains, Family Ties, and Cheers.

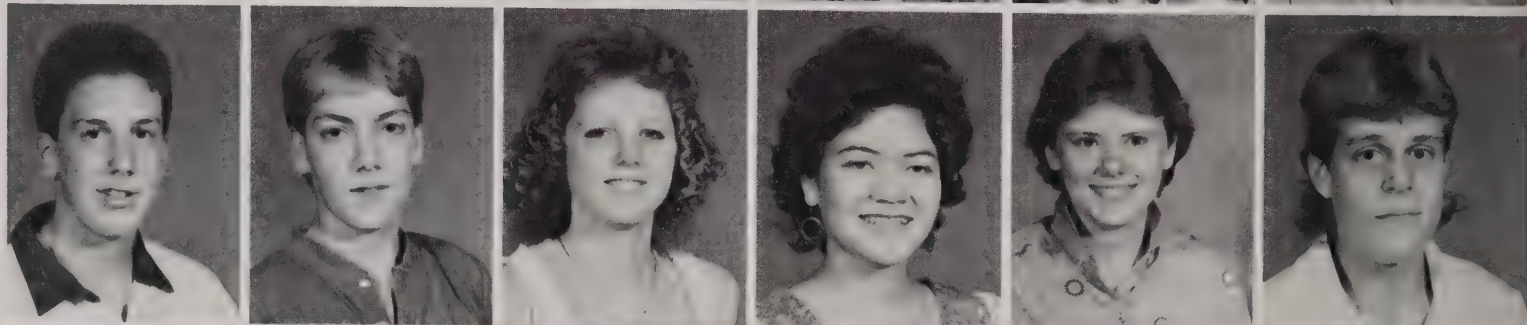

Maybe you don't agree with some of these results (I can't say that I do) and maybe you say "Why doesn't anyone ask ME these questions?!" Well, to get asked you have to get involved with Falls Church High School and show your school spirit.

Life Down Under

When asked what they liked best about Falls Church H.S., Some Freshmen said, "The people, the school spirit and the soda machines". The things Freshmen liked least were the dark hallways and that school started to early.

Almost all Freshmen interviewed said they were not scared when they first came to Falls Church, but some admitted to being a little bit nervous.

When asked "Has any upperclassman ever put you down?", almost everyone said no. One Freshman stated she was put down once but only jokingly.

About 70% of the freshmen interviewed did not participate in a club or activity. Maybe there were so many people who said no because this survey was taken the second week of school.

85% of the freshmen participated in a sport. Sports mentioned were track, wrestling, baseball, cross country, football, and cheerleading.

Freshmen named Dr. Buchanan, Mrs. Manczuk, Mrs. Fitzgerald, and Mr. Morris as their most challenging teachers. Easiest teachers named were Miss. Scott, Mrs. Welk, Mrs. Jayne, and Mrs. Singley.

On a scale of 1-10, most people rated Falls Church a "6".

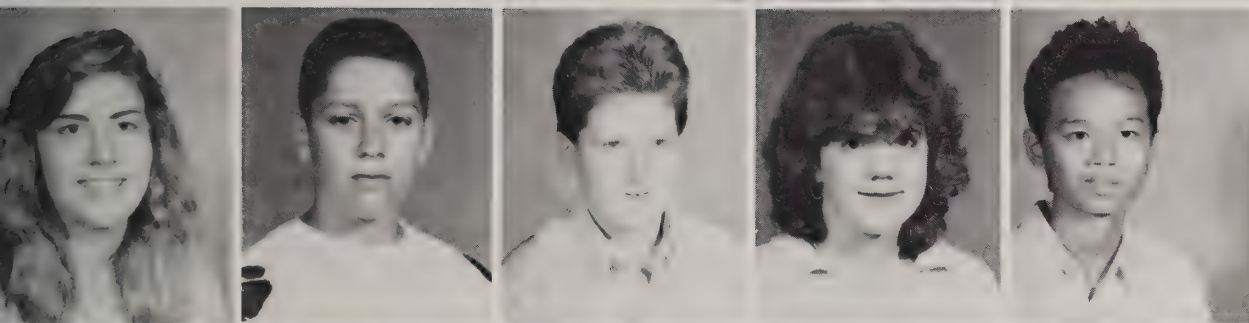

Almost all freshmen interviewed said they were not scared when they first came to Falls Church, but when buses arrived they couldn't bring themselves to leave.

Freshmen class officers, Secretary Katie Ngo, Treasurer Charlene Collenborne, President Ashley Armstrong, Vice President Kathleen Murphy

Quick

Can you name your class officers?

Of course you can. You are a member of the spirited class of 1991. Every year we vote for leaders of our school, this year we had a great group! They had superior ideas and made the Class of 1991 the best it could be.

Our President was Ashley Armstrong. She had lots of experience to make her a qualified President. Ashley's helper was Kathleen Murphy. She had some really good ideas and was a big help to Ashley. Katie Ngo, our secretary had a hard job. She had to keep everything straight. Although everyone had a tough job probably the hardest was treasurer. Charlene Collenborne had to keep track of all the money and make sure it was spent on things for the class. To help all these people were the legislators: Layne Rice, Karen Evans, Anne Palace, Michelle Pavitt and Phillip Kim. Last but not least were the ever popular team of Buchanan and Bennett who had to keep track of the freshmen class.

Watch out Falls Church we were awesome freshmen and we plan to be even better Sophomores.

Caught in the Act

Home Away From Home

This year many freshmen made their lockers a little more interesting by hanging pictures, magazine clippings, mirrors and stuffed animals. Many of the articles found in lockers reflect the personalities of the owner. When asked about the most interesting locker items several people came up with some very unique sightings. Sarah Walpole reported seeing a telephone, yes a telephone, in someone's locker. Debbie Weisshaar saw one imaginative creation, a locker covered with clothes tags. Some people interviewed named other items that were unsuitable for printing. The latest locker creation, a locker answering machine. What will they think of next?!

In the years ahead there will no doubt be even more interesting developments and ideas in locker decoration. Who knows, one day there may even be a course in locker art.

Changes

This year Falls Church has said goodbye to John Hollowell and James Flannigan. John Hollowell, the former athletic director, was here for twelve years and is currently the Vice Principal at Madison High School. James Flannigan, who was the director of guidance, has retired after sixteen years and is currently running his own business. They worked very hard while they were here. We will all miss them very much. We wish them good luck in the future.

What a Woman!!!

Mr. Ring shows exactly how it's done

Changing

the grade

We will always remember the teacher's nagging voices as they ordered us to our seats in the last 5 minutes of class.

Angie Henderson can't wait to get to class, she's always on time too.

Stop and think how education has changed in the past 200 years. That was then, this is now.

An incredible influence on education is the relationship between the student and teacher.

Science teacher Mrs. Dewey, is an expert on academics.

AP?

Is it: Always Pressured?
Anti-Progressive?
Acutely Psycotic? Absolute Pleasure? Well, that's not the definition given in the course selection sheets, but to the majority of AP students, any of the above would do nicely. What AP actually stands for is Advanced Placement. From Art History to Computer Science, Advanced Placement has sunk
it's scholastics roots into almost every subject. So now you ask yourself, what's so great about taking an "AP" class? Well for starters you learn more about the topic at hand than a regular class, you know, deeper meanings and all that jazz. Second, in May the students partake in the AP exam, giving them credits for college course, and on top of all that the AP student gets a .5 added to his grade point average (GPA) giving him, say, a B+ instead of just a B. So in the end "AP" stands for more than just Aquired Pain-in-the-neck.

Humanities does more than the usual history or english class. Here they are doing brass rubbings.

Block Classes

Yes, they are back by popular demand! Block classes combine English and Social Studies together in an interesting way. This year we have Global Studies, World Cultures, American Civ, and finally Humanities. The team taught efforts of the teachers help to broaden a students knowledge during a specific time period. To help clarify information, students use "hands on" information including visits to Arena Stage, The Washington Cathedral, Congress and a variety of other places. One of the things most enjoyed by students is the chance to work closer with other classmates through group instruction and projects.

And behind curtain #2 April, you have won a free homework pass, on "It's Machiavellian"

Gigi Gonzales and Michele Parks break from rubbing.

It's Common Knowledge

That's what everyone thought, about our geography. Students were surprised by the difficulty of the questions they were asked during National Geography Week. At the beginning of the week we were given an answer sheet, and each day asked questions, in each period about the world's geography. Questions ranged from culture and environment, to physical characteristics. The three students with a perfect paper were awarded at the end of the week. The World Geography classes ended the day by sending off balloons into the air, with messages tied to the string. It was pretty successful, with messages returning as far north as Canada!

Just before the big launch, freshmen get ready for the signal.

National Geography Week winners: Robert Gillis, Laszlo Takacs, Carl Harris.

Adventures IN LEARNING

American Civ. is not just a class, it's an adventure. Unlike other History and English classes, in this club you do many projects and are encouraged to use your artistic talents. The class goes on a fieldtrip every quarter, this year they've gone to the Supreme Court, National Archives, and a dinner theater to see a production of "Annie". They also had an 1860 Christmas party. The kids dressed up in 1860's costumes, made a toy from 1860, brought in food, and did a skit in front of the class. This class is designed for G.T. students and is also college level.

This is not an anacronism, the American Civ. kids are celebrating the 1860's.

Often dissenting opinions cause conflicts during class.

Success? Money?

There are a variety of business courses offered at Falls Church. Of the many courses, the one taken most is Typing. Even if you don't plan on going any further in business courses, typing is still a good skill to have. "My parents made me take typing in summer school, but I'm glad I did, it's the most helpful of all the classes I've ever taken." Business Data Processing (BDP) is another popular business course.

"I've learned a lot about computers themselves as well as how to write programs.", comments Laurie Vetter.

In Accounting, students learn how to manage money in today's business world.

Senior Jackie Cannon states "Accounting helps you better understand the business world."

Of the business courses offered at Falls Church, there is at least one to help you in the future. Interested in : JOBS, MONEY, SECURITY, AND HAPPINESS??? Take a business course at Falls Church and see where it takes you.

Mrs. Whiteside shows student correct typing format

Will the program run?

Never say "die"
And you thought computers were serious.
What do you mean "error"?!?

They're Wired

Interviewing Terrill Andrews we found out what they really learn in class. Such as hooking up a twelve volt colorgraph to a stereo system, which in result made the lights move with energy. They also learn how electricity works and test the laws of electronics. Unlike some of the other vocational classes electronics is only one period a day. But there are three levels to this subject, so it's not that easy!

Kenny Weiskoff pretending to work.

Electronics, the class for the curious.

Wipe that silly grin off your face.

Look at the mess you made!

Greasers

Don't you wonder why you see guys with black grease on their hands, arms, and face? After interviewing a few auto mechanic students we found out why. By being in this class we learned from Chris Embrey and Kenny Weiskoff it's not just all grease. They work on cars which are donated or brought in to be fixed, but unlike a real garage you don't have to pay for labor. By being in this class many feel it will prepare them for a career in auto mechanics. Mr. Rosen has been at Falls Church for five years and his students know they are learning the necessities and responsibilities of being a mechanic.

How come I can never get it like the hair dressers do?

Style

Sherry Olson and Kristie Conboy plan to have a career in Cosmetology and they hope that their training will qualify them to hold a position in the field of cosmetology. To qualify for a job they all must pass the stateboard exam. Such jobs that they do are: color and cut hair, give perms, manicures, and facials (for a small price). Many people, including teachers and students go to cosmetology to get their hair done.

Do you soak your hands in Palmolive?

Human Relations

The Human Relations classes (Peer Relations and Peer Counseling) are designed to train students to help their peers deal with everyday (friends, family, rough week), and not so everyday (drug abuse, suicide), problems that teenagers face. Sound easy? Well to begin with, you have to be screened and interviewed just to get into the class, and that's only for Peer Relations. In Peer Relations the student learns basic but necessary speaking skills, how to read and speak body language, the dangers of Communication Stoppers (phrases such as: "I know you're having trouble with your girlfriend, but let me tell you about my car"), among other things. After a year of Peer Relations you graduate to Peer Counseling. Peer Counseling starts with a brush up on old skills and new training involving a minimum of forty-five hours in counselor preparation. Then the counselors go to the elementary and middle schools to test out their powers on younger kids before going on to help their peers.

"Hey, I know the answer!"

PROBLEMS, SOLUTIONS

"I hope that's an excused tardy."

Tracy and Mike look on.

The members of the Falls Church Peer Counseling are as follows: Kelly Bowman, Lucy Cho, Cheryl Curtis, Tom Downey, Tuyen Duong, Becca Graham, Mary

Harper, Theresa Hill, Molly Johnson, Tara Knott, Angela McGuire, Tracy Morrisette, Mike Obleas, Michele Parks, Andi Rock, Chris Walker, Derek Wohlust, Mike Yates.

Mrs. Laviolette, the head of the Peer Counseling and Peer Relations classes.

Come help us work on them

Do You Have a Job Skill?

That's a good question to ask yourself if you don't know and would like to learn. Three classes at Falls Church that offer useful future skills are Restaurant Trades, Home Economics, and Gourmet Foods.

According to senior David Moorman, a Restaurant Trades student, in addition to the usual cooking skills, you "get to study restaurant management." Kevin Grogan, another student enrolled in Restaurant Trades, gives his definition of the class as "learning to cook for a large amount of people." Another Falls Church High class that emphasizes cooking but on a smaller scale is Home Economics. In this class students learn the basics of cooking and sewing. When asked why she was taking Home Economics, freshman Jennifer Dudley responded "because its an easy way to pass and I like it." Jenni Pimentel, a sophomore in the same class, added that "more guys should be interested in it [Home Economics] because cooking and sewing are good to know."

The third course, Gourmet Foods, is an elective, as are Home Economics and Restaurant Trades. In this class, students have a chance to make foreign foods as well as the usual American foods. Tina Culter, a Senior enrolled in Gourmet foods, said that they "prepare foods from the four basic food groups, plus desserts." Thang Nguyen, another Gourmet Foods student, said that "the class is graded on what they make, whether it's edible, how well they get along together, and how they maintain their work area."

The students taking these classes are offered skills which will definitely help them in the future. If you are considering one of these courses for next year, remember that Restaurant Trades and Gourmet Foods mainly involve cooking (Restaurant Trades also emphasizes managing skills), and that Home Economics gives you a basic understanding of both cooking and sewing.

Change

Every school year students look forward to fieldtrips, the more time away from school, the better.

The teachers versus the students in a small game of "It's Academic" provided good practise for the real thing.

Dances were a very new activity this year, they became more popular with each occurrence.

For Thomas Jefferson Library's birthday the FC choir provided entertainment.

Student trainers were essential to the sports program and were there all year 'round.

Restaurant Trades students had a fun time making this gingerbread village, but even more fun eating it!

And the Tradition

THE FALLS CHURCH HIGH SCHOOL BAND. Those words are respected all over the United States. The band has long tradition of excellence. All of those who have been members of the band can attest to that. Most will also say that the band has deeply affected their lives in some way or another. The entire band staff is made up of FCHS Band Alumni: Keith Brescia (Class of '66), Bob Papke (Class of '77), Bob Powers (Class of '77), Chuck Hawkins (Class of '77), Jim Stickley (Class of '80), and Jeanette Manion (Class of '83). All of these people are very dedicated to their work with the band.

This year, the band members began to work on marching fundamentals in mid-August. Then, the band went to Orkney Springs Band Camp to put the field show together and to work on the fundamental playing of their instruments, under the guidance of Band Director Charles Hiebert. Mr. Hiebert in his third year at FCHS, has done an excellent job of inspiring students to improve not only their group performance, but also their individual efforts.

Drum Major Marie Underhill, a proven leader and respected band member and musician, led the band through the marching season this year, beginning with a competition in Hanover, PA, which was unfortunately rained out. The next performance was a local one at Mt. Vernon High School, followed by a return trip to the Windjammer Invitational at the Coast Guard Academy in New London, CT. The band took 2nd place in the Silver Division at that contest, only .8 of a point from first. The trip was a positive experience for all, and everyone returned home highly motivated. Their next performances were at Woodson High School and at the Vienna Halloween Parade. The season ended with the band's participation in a large contest in Roanoke Rapids, NC, in which the band gave a very exciting performance which earned them 2nd place in their division and a rating of Superior, and second place trophies for drum major, drum line, flags, rifles, and hornline. The band then became the definition of unity. The attitude continues to be excellent.

After marching band season ends, the band splits into several other groups: Symphonic Band, in which concert music is played; the Concert Band, which acts as a feeder to the Symphonic Band; the Beginning Band, which is a feeder to the Concert Band, and the Indoor Colorguard. The Indoor Guard, a group of crack flags and rifles who must audition for their placement in the group, prepares a competitive show that is performed on a basketball court. Last, but certainly not least, is the steadily growing and improving Jazz Band that is planning on being very competitive this year. The Band (Symphonic Band, Marching Parade Band, Jazz Band and Indoor Guard) will participate this Spring in the Fiesta-Val in Charleston, SC.

The Band's future is very bright, thanks to the dedication of all its members and its teacher. The Band will continue to set the example of commitment to excellence for the student body at Falls Church High School.

Double Trouble

Falls Church is lucky to have two different choir classes. Both have different functions and activities, but yet they encourage the development of one's singing ability.

The Swing Choir is more active, in that they dance and move to their songs. They have special outfits and costumes to wear for their many concerts. Every year they have a winter and a spring concert. The Regular Choir is more for beginners, or those who only want to sing as opposed to perform. They sing many different songs, including theme songs, in the concerts they participate in.

Concert Choir; Jenni Bradley, Terry Bradley, Chrissy Carter, Derrick Carter, Jennifer Dame, Lawrence Davis, Deniece Empson, Wanda Grant, Tracie Holcombe, Kristi Hundemer, Shannon Larson, Sharon Lopez, Cynthia Nguyen, Diane O'Brien, Ozan Ozturk, Jennifer Pignone, Amy Raymond.

Strings Expand

In September the Chorus performed at Thomas Jefferson Library to celebrate the Constitution.

Orchestra Class members; Marcos Catalan, cello; Kaare Chaffee, violin; John Crowley, bass; Cindy Crumb, director.

Our Orchestra class has a very interesting mix of instruments. We have four guitars, a violin, a cello, and a string bass. The violinist, cellist, and bassist have performed two concerts with the Luther Jackson Intermediate Orchestra. The concerts were at Jackson, and more excitingly, at the McClean Hilton. The guitarists performed with the other orchestra students in the joint concert with the F.C.H.S. Choir Department in the Spring.

Since our orchestra class is so small, there is no prerequisite for being in the class. There is space for beginners, as well as for more advanced students. Cindy Crumb

Instead of boring class exercises guitar students do what they enjoy in class.

Drama/Thespians

Have you ever wondered what a Thespian is? Well you're in luck because you're about to find out. A Thespian is an actor or actress who is continuously involved in the Drama department, and who makes a commitment to the theater. This also is based on a point system. You receive points by being active on and off the stage. To be a Thespian you must have a total of 10 points, to be an honor Thespian you must have a total of 60 points, and receive a Falls Church Varsity letter.

The Drama department performed a 'Just Say No' production at local elementary schools. Their first production was 'The Foreigner'; about a gentleman whose wife was dying and who didn't want to associate with anyone. He was a boring, stoic, passive kind of guy. This man adopted the title 'The Foreigner' from the people he was staying with; since he pretended to speak no English. Slowly people began to discover his real personality. The Foreigner became a clone of Dear Abby and united the people around him and together they overcame the racial prejudices of the clan.

The second and last production of the 1987-1988 school year was 'Hello Dolly' a splashy, fun, musical which plainly is "pure excitement for the whole family." The Drama department is hoping to unify the school with the help of cheerleaders, basketball players, shop students and faculty participating in these productions.

The Drama department is lead by President, Cindy Southworth, Vice President, Jay Miles, Secretary, Marie Underhill, Treasurer, Robert Fisher, Historian, Christin Faulkner, Scribe, Caroline Reich

Parlez-Vous Francais?

Have you ever wanted to visit Canada? Well you blew your chance if you didn't join the French Club this year. Early this spring Ms. Miskell took a group of students to Canada to immerse themselves in the culture. Not only did they learn a lot about the culture, but they also enjoyed themselves.

Besides the trip this year, the French Club has also had several get-togethers. The annual Christmas party proved to be excellent with lots of food, drinks, and fun. French Club is open to anyone who is interested in the French language and culture.

WHAT CLUBS

Admission to the National Honor Society (NHS) is a privilege few students receive. The qualifications are steep; one must have a 3.5 gpa and recommendations from all your teachers. Each student must show achievement in the fields of leadership, character, scholastic, and service before being considered. The NHS then holds one of the most beautiful and sacred ceremonies, induction. The candlelight ceremony is the climax of the induction process.

Members must maintain their high standing in school or they are not eligible for readmission. This year NHS sold band-aids to help raise money for the Arive Alive cause. This cause helps eliminate drunk drivers from the roads. Next year the NHS plans to get more involved in championing causes.

Since the Socials Studies Club is fairly new and not mentioned that much in Falls Church, you might be wondering what it is all about. If you have heard of the Social Studies magazine, the people involved in this club are the people who write it. There are no requirements for joining so anyone can belong. The S.S. magazine is published once a year in the late spring. It includes any poems, dialogues, term-papers, history or social sciences that people submit. The editors of the magazine are Chenoa Flippen and Lee Avery. The meetings aren't very frequent during the fall and winter, but since the magazine comes out in the spring, they meet about twice a week. Although the AP and GT classes get the magazine in class, ask around for one of your own because this club really does a good job.

ARE WHAT?!

The Key Club is a service organization that has chapters nationwide. The Chapter here at Falls Church has about 68 members. The president is Jina Kim, Vice president -Dana Atkins, secretary - Ann Catalini and treasurer -Susan Wyman. Mrs. Sandra Jones is the sponsor for the Key Club. Meetings are held weekly to plan events. This year the events have included working with a nursing home and planning a yearly convention, which will be held in Richmond, VA. Also they plan to hold more fundraisers to help Fairfax Hospital raise money for new equipment.

Did you realize how many clubs Falls Church has that no one knows about? Well, the English Club happens to be one of them.

This year's club consisted of two teams, of 5 members each. The object of the club was to take several tests of 3 to 4 minutes in length and try to score as high as possible. These are tests you don't even have to study for!

The teams this year did not quite make finals but Mrs. Yim has high hopes for next year. So come on out and impress your English teacher.

However, the people who have dared to join are quite a collection of mathematical minds. Every other week they meet in Mr. Newsome's classroom to take a written test consisting of 6 questions. These tests, which are separated into JV and Varsity teams, are compared with other school's results.

If you think you are good enough (or even if you don't), go ahead and join the math team. Enhance YOUR mathematical finesse!

Gabe Gamboa ponders over the days assignment.

Have you ever wanted to compete in 'certamen'? Well, the Latin Club does. Once a month, dedicated students meet to discuss their plan of attack for the latin bowls. Members use their knowledge of latin and its history to earn honor and glory for Falls Church High School.

Every latin student is invited to join the Latin Club, which is sponsored by Mrs. Bartelmes. The club meets once a month in room 212.

"My goal for the Latin Club," said Mrs. Bartelmes, "is for every student to be able to use their knowledge of latin in the bowls and to maintain it when they are out of school."

Friends Helping Another

Does Falls Church have an FHA club? More importantly, what is FHA? No, it is not the Future Homemakers of America, but rather Friends Helping Another.

Co-Presidents Beth Cantu and Tsige Makonnen are working hard to make the club work this year. "We really want to try to make it popular like Civitans, but in a different way," says Beth Cantu.

Not everyone in this club wants a career in social work, the only prerequisite is that you enjoy helping people. "That's the whole point of the club, to help the community and other people," says member Michele Parks.

One of the best things about this club is that it doesn't take a lot of time. Meetings are once a week, but what does the amount of time really matter when you are helping someone.

"In time, this is going to be a really popular, well-known club," says member Barbara Kelly. So if you like helping people, and are looking for just the right club, try Falls Church high school's Friends Helping Another club.

The FBLA is one of the largest and most active clubs at Falls Church High School. There are over 60 members in the club.

FBLA is co-curricular. Because of this, they are able to have meetings during the school day. Any student who is enrolled in a business course may join the FBLA.

Activities this year include: sponsoring a fundraiser for the business department to purchase computer desks, Ugly Teacher Day for the senior scholarship fund, along with many others.

The second annual American enterprise day was a tremendous success. Twelve speakers from local businesses and governments donated their time to speak to the students about their careers.

So, if you are going to be enrolled in a business course next year, don't forget to join FBLA.

Student Government

The Student Government is a very important organization at FCHS. Each spring elections are held for SG officers plus five representatives from each class. Through the elected representatives, the SG allows students from each class a chance to voice their own opinions and ideas. This year the officers are Tom Crist- President, Young Kim- Vice President of Curricular Affairs, David Eisle- Vice President of Extracurricular Affairs, Amy Callen- Secretary, and Jay Miles- Treasurer.

Each year the SG sponsors a magazine drive. The money received from the magazine drive is divided among the classes and school organizations who participate.

Two major events sponsored by the SG are the Homecoming Dance in the fall and the Sweetheart Dance held in February. The sponsor for the SG is Mr. John Woodson.

Mr. Woodson is also the sponsor for the S.A.C. which stands for Student Advisory Council. It consists of five students from each high school in Fairfax County. The students who represent FCHS are: April Armstrong, Wendi Crouch, Tara Knott, Blake Mason, Ngoc Nguyen, Misha Patnaik and Kim Phillips. The SAC meets once a month at different schools in the county. The students meet to discuss issues that they feel are important to everyone in the school system. Some of the issues they discuss are: teaching values in school, getting more high school sports, and establishing a seven period day, and that's only some of them. After they pick the issues, they research them and make a proposal to the Area or County Supervisors at the end of the year. One of the other things the SAC does is conduct a convention in May to choose someone to represent the schools on the school board.

Through a student representative, students can voice their opinions and someone will listen.

CIVITANS

The officers of Civitans this year are: Alice Su, President; John Kelly, Vice President; Misha Patnaik, Secretary; Kristen Tate, Treasurer. The activities that Civitans has planned for this year are: the canned food drive for the needy, having a Christmas dance with the Kilmer kids, having a blood drive, getting involved with the headstart program, visiting the Nursing Home, and collecting money for the children's hospital. For the National Civitans convention they are going to Virginia Beach, during April 29-31. During the convention they are going to meet with other Civitans from Maryland, and Virginia and discuss the district and National events. Also, during this time they will have elections for district leaders. Approximately 50 people are involved in Civitans.

Students Jump In

On December 12, 1987, a group of A.P. Government students went to the Fairfax County Judiciary Center and simulated a real court case. Students portrayed prosecuting/defending attorneys, bailiffs, court clerks, jurors, and witnesses, but the case was presided over by a real Fairfax County judge.

The scene we have just described is Model Judiciary, a program sponsored by Elaine C. Bredehoft of Walton & Adams, P.C. This year, our team was composed of Mrs. Petrini's and Mrs. Driscoll's A.P. classes. "The students were 'coached' by real attorneys," recalls Mrs. Petrini, "in courtroom etiquette."

The students, who had two weeks to prepare their cases, obtained, studied, and later, in court, used as much information as possible. After their cases were presented, they then prepared arguments for an appellate court, where the case will be tried again in the same way . . . "The goal is to give the students the opportunity to experience in a real manner what the American Judicial System is all about," explained Mrs. Petrini.

Not only does Falls Church have a Model Judiciary team in action, we are also blessed with a Model U.N. and an OAS (Organization of American States).

The OAS is a team made up of ten students that are chosen from whom-ever initially joins the team. The final ten are broken down to be five delegates and five alternates.

The OAS is designed to help students learn more about Latin American countries and their cultures, and to also bring ideas together to solve problems in those countries. This year, the Falls Church OAS team was given the country of Venezuela to represent. "That was really a big deal for us," explained Mrs. Fee, an OAS sponsor, "because this was the first year that we were given a major country to represent."

Finally, our school has a Model U.N. team. It consists of twenty students, who participated in a small scale United Nations meeting with other schools in Virginia. The U.N. group, after extensive research, met in Charlottesville to discuss and vote on world issues. Just like the regular United Nations, Model U.N. held marathon sessions, attended general assembly meetings, and delivered speeches on Italy, Iceland, and Mexico, which were the countries that Falls Church High School represented this year.

Lee Avery states her point on the case.

If you want my opinion...

Excursions, the Falls Church literary magazine, has been in existence for nine years under the leadership of english teacher Mr. Margrave. In the past four years, it has achieved a first place rating from the prestigious evaluation service, the Columbia University Scholastic Press Ass.. This past year, editor David Williams achieved first place awards from both Columbia and the Virginia High School League and a meritorious achievement from the Fairfax County School Board. The magazine's stories have been particularly praised by evaluators. Because of their merit, a number of the pieces from last year's magazine are being submitted for individual judging by Columbia.

This year's staff has expanded greatly under the leadership of editor Tom Hetrick and the support of assistant editors Jina Kim, Rachel Mosher, and Jeff Reiser. Efforts are being made to coordinate the English department with Mrs. Adams and the Art department to improve the overall look and style of the magazine.

News That's Fit to Print

(And some that's not)

The Jaguar Journal, Falls Church's paper, brings the news of the world around us, school and otherwise. This year's editors are Jeff Reiser and Jill Hanbury, and Lori Bouchard (English and Creative Writing teacher) is sponsoring the paper for her second year. The paper itself has been around since the 1940's. The paper's biggest setback is producing monthly literature under a tight budget and time frame.

Goof-offs go to work

Did you ever think about the people who made this book? That's right, the yearbook staff, the people who compile all your fondest memories of your high school years, and even a few of your not so fond memories. These are the people who sweat to meet deadlines so you won't have to pay fifty dollars for your yearbook.

This past summer several members of the yearbook staff went down to the University of Virginia to a work shop to learn how to make the yearbook look better. "This summer we hope to have a workshop right here at Falls Church so more people can come, and it won't be as expensive" says Mrs. Linda Henderson, sponser of the yearbook.

Most people don't realize how much it costs to produce a yearbook. This year's is going to cost in the neighborhood of $24,000. The staff has worked hard to raise money, in order to lower your costs for the book, by having bake sales, car washes, and selling ads.

So when you look back on the book, remember the people who made it possible, the fantastic yearbook staff of 1988.

It's Academic!

F.C.H.S. killers accept their award.

"It's Academic" team coach, Robert Margrave, had high hopes coming into the 87-88 school year. He began holding tryouts months before the December 12th match and narrowed down his team to six of the smartest and meanest students in Falls Church. Lists of presidents and literary classics were studied; weekly practices were held to drill quick thinking, and for a final preparation the student team battled a faculty team.

And so the stage was set: Falls Church v. Ballou and Coolidge. Representing the Jags were Captain Tom Christ, Calvin Schneiter, and Jeff Reiser. After trailing for the entire match, Falls Church won a rare 25 point bonus and took the lead just before the final round. This lead increased early in the "Grab Bag" round, but Coolidge charged to within five points before the final question. But when no one could answer this the last seconds ticked off leaving Falls Church the winner. The final score: Ballou 340, Coolidge 480, Falls Church 485.

Winning for the first time in four years, the team waits until March for their playoff match.

The team prepares diligently for the competition.

Deca/Coe

Falls Church offers several programs in which students can combine school and work. These programs provide on-the-job training for those students entering a certain career field.

Two of these programs are DECA (Distributive Education), and COE (Cooperative Office Education). DECA concentrates on marketing skills. Students in this program participate in field trips, listen to speakers, and do projects concerning marketing or fashion merchandising.

Students compete in marketing events held at district levels and sponsor fashion shows for the elderly.

COE is a program in which students acquire business skills by working in an office environment. The student and coordinator work together to find a job that is suitable to both the program and the student. The students use knowledge and skills acquired through their business courses and apply them in their office jobs. Many companies in our area avidly support the COE program. They also appreciate the benefits shared by both the students and student's employers while they train the future business people of America.

An art student paints a clear picture about Drugs

Anti-Drug Posters adorned the walls of Falls Church High School

Academic debating is one of the most exciting and valuable experiences a high school student can have. The student who learns to debate well learns also how to research, in depth, an important political or social problem of the time in which they live, and gains an additional motivation to become active in changing systems or traditions which she perceives as unfair. The student learns how to organize her research into a meaningful and persuasive presentation, and also how to defend her presentation against her equally well-prepared opponent. An excellent debater, as a result, becomes extremely adept at oral communication, and can utilize this valuable personal endeavors in the future. The Falls Church High School Debate Team this year had many new faces, and all were eager to participate in this challenging and rewarding activity. Unfortunately, there were no veteran debaters this year to provide the necessary help was gleaned from all available sources, and after many hours of research and observation, the new members were ready and anxious to debate. The topic for next year will be "aging," and the members of the debate team started to research and organize material even before the year was finished, in order to be ready to start the new school year with a strong showing of teams to represent Falls Church High School in September.

a Change of pace

Pride week is a chance for F.C. to prove it's spirit.

Waiting in line is part of everyday life, especially the lunch line.

Finally, life as an upper classmen. Ahh, those lazy days.

School life is definatly no fantasy, many students try to wish it away.

If you stick around long enough, you can see how things really heat up around here!

A big part of school is all the other activities. We can see how it can take all of ones energy.

Fads / Fashion

Of Things

Every year has it's fads, and this year is no different. Here at F.C. one's own unique style is very important, but it's the repeating of many styles that creates a fad.

Teenagers are the most impressionable group of people. The media these days brings out the fashions, hairstyles, and slang that are the life styles of students everywhere. Advertisers are creating the image and need for the perfect body since physical fitness is constantly emphasized, however we are also becoming more aware that everyone can't be a model. People tend to follow styles brought on by entertainers. The movie industry is bringing back nostalgia from the 50's, as in "Dirty Dancing", last year's "Top Gun" made the way for flight jackets, and all those crazy teenage movies like "Can't Buy Me Love" are packed with fashion breakthroughs. The morning radio shows, especially DC/101 with the Greaseman, could have created their own dictionary of typical talk of '88. Music videos seem to be at their peak on MTV. The performer's views of their songs portray life as a party, which could account for the throw together comfortable look.

But it doesn't matter that your tastes are not the same as others, because this year, Anything Goes.

Whistle while you work

Nobody wants to work, unless you're like really 'into' your job, and if you are that's great, but you are a dying breed. For the most part we work for money, for that fat (or not so fat) paycheck at the end of the work week. And there's plenty to spend it on. Your car, new or old, your girl/boyfriend, new or old, clothes, food, movies, you name it, you'll probably have to spend money on it. Of course, there are other reasons for work, like, life experience, training yourself to be more responsible, learning how to manage your money, and last but not least, the all time favorite, the satisfaction of a job well done.

And so go the free

Tara Knott, the finiky bowler

So, class is out and you're loose, so where do you go? What do you do? Well, the choices are endless. Besides work and extra-curriculars (school-wise) there's plenty else going on. Some people play park and rec sports, some hunt and fish. There are parties and movies. With the snow, you can sled with your friends. For the adventurous, a trip into D.C. could prove quite fruitful. There are restaurants, whether your dining to impress (Top of the Town, Orleans House), dining for fun (Bennigan's, Chili's), or dining to survive (McDonald's, Roy Roger's). And there are other sports besides football and basketball, such as bowling, shooting pool, and drag racing. For the musically-minded, concerts come and go constantly, and local bands play clubs in and around D.C. So, in a town where there's nothing to do, there's something to do.

The "cheerleaders" in a pyramid

We've Got Spirit

In order to promote school spirit, let off some steam, and just have a good time, we have pep rallies. This is a chance for the school to cheer on the different teams and use up some of that over exuberant energy.

Seniors!!, Seniors!!, can be heard above the dim with all the other classes not far behind. Class competition is probably the most remembered thing about pep rallies. Next is the cheerleaders with their ever popular guillotine routine. Finally the band plays. Then back to the yelling again, We've got spirit, yes we do, we've got spirit, how 'bout you! Juniors have more, or was that the Sophomores and Freshmen. The Seniors know, Seniors have more.

The Band performs while the flags get into their routine.

WHOSE BIRTHDAY

The U.S. Army Fife and Drum Corps recreates Virginia, 200 years ago. Hut 2 - 3 - 4 !

Mrs. Vaganos accompanies the Falls Church Chorus on the piano as they sing the American Anthem.

Our Constitution

During September 14-18, Falls Church celebrated bicentennial week with entertainment from the U.S Army Fife and Drum Corps. They performed during an assembly, which seemed to have the whole schools attention.

This years Homecoming was also based on the Constitutions 200 year birthday. There was a major upset for the Seniors when the Freshmen won first place for the float contest. Although the halls were decorated with the Constitution theme, the student government decided to make spirit week a little different. We had beach day, pajama day, toga day, and spirit day.

It didn't matter if the spirit was for the Constitutions birthday, or for Jaguar pride, everyone had a good time.

Color to Falls Church

The senior class struts its stuff!!!

These girls "lettered" in banners.

All hail the awesome, talented, and highly spirited class of '88 for their impressive, although not surprising, victory over the other classes in this year's hall decorating contest. Not only did the senior class have the biggest turn-out, but they also did the best job in representing this year's theme; "The Bicentennial".

The halls were decorated with the usual barrage of paper mache, streamers, and banners, but it was the senior class who put the streamers and banners to their best use, winning first place. The juniors came in a strong second, with the sophmores in third, leaving you-know-who in fourth place. Congratulations to all the classes, and thank you to all the kids who helped decorate the halls.

Just For The Fun Of It

That should have been the theme for this year's Homecoming. We could have better related the game and festivities rather than the "Constitution". How can you promote school spirit, hall decoration, floats, and a football game, using the theme "Constitution"? many students asked. Well, using creative minds, it can be done and was done.

The biggest change in 200 years was the fact that the freshmen surprisingly won the float contest. Their float was a cute, well-done bear, that bore a Lancers player in its arm. "The Right to Bear Arms" was their campaign. The Seniors came in second with their interpretation of the Liberty Bell. "Ring 'Em and make 'Em see stars" was the clever slogan that bounded around the track. The Juniors came in third with a Red-White & Blue Birthday Cake for the 200th birthday of the Constitution. "Lancers make your Last Wish", was the threat the opposite team remembered. With little organization and lack of help the Sophomores didn't place. They had a scroll that said, "We the Class of 1990 will kick the Lancers in their Heinie's." It was a great idea, but maybe next year. There was so much controversy about the floats, who really built them, and other picky details that it made you stop and think; What's the point of Homecoming? To have fun Right?

The game itself was disappointing. The Jags never lost spirit and kept fighting till the end. Maybe that's how it tied in with the Constitution. Two Hundred years ago our ancestors didn't give up fighting for what they believed in.

Many people packed Paul Weber Stadium to see everyone else. As this was Homecoming, graduates came "home" to party with old friends. The whole weekend was full of fun.

Ahh, the way the air smells, fresh and cold, before a bout of snow. One knows right away that snow is coming as they look into the thick clouded sky. Our imaginations run away with all sane thoughts and bring us into a winter wonderland.

A wonderland of no school and endless cartoons. For some people their snowy dreams include no 6:30 alarm clocks.

Those of us who can muster up some energy take advantage of the elements. Skiing is becoming ever-so popular, as the senior class went to Canada over the three day break.

The snow certainly is beautiful! Virginia is a wonderland in the winter time, especially the prestigious Fairfax County.

Sports

For the first game of the season, the Varsity girls basketball team proved that they have what it takes to be number 1.

Fall Friday nights became synonymous with football games. This one Friday attracted quite a crowd, bringing back the old Stuart rivalry.

Indoor Track was another strong point for F.C.'s sports program, gaining new people and keeping experienced ones.

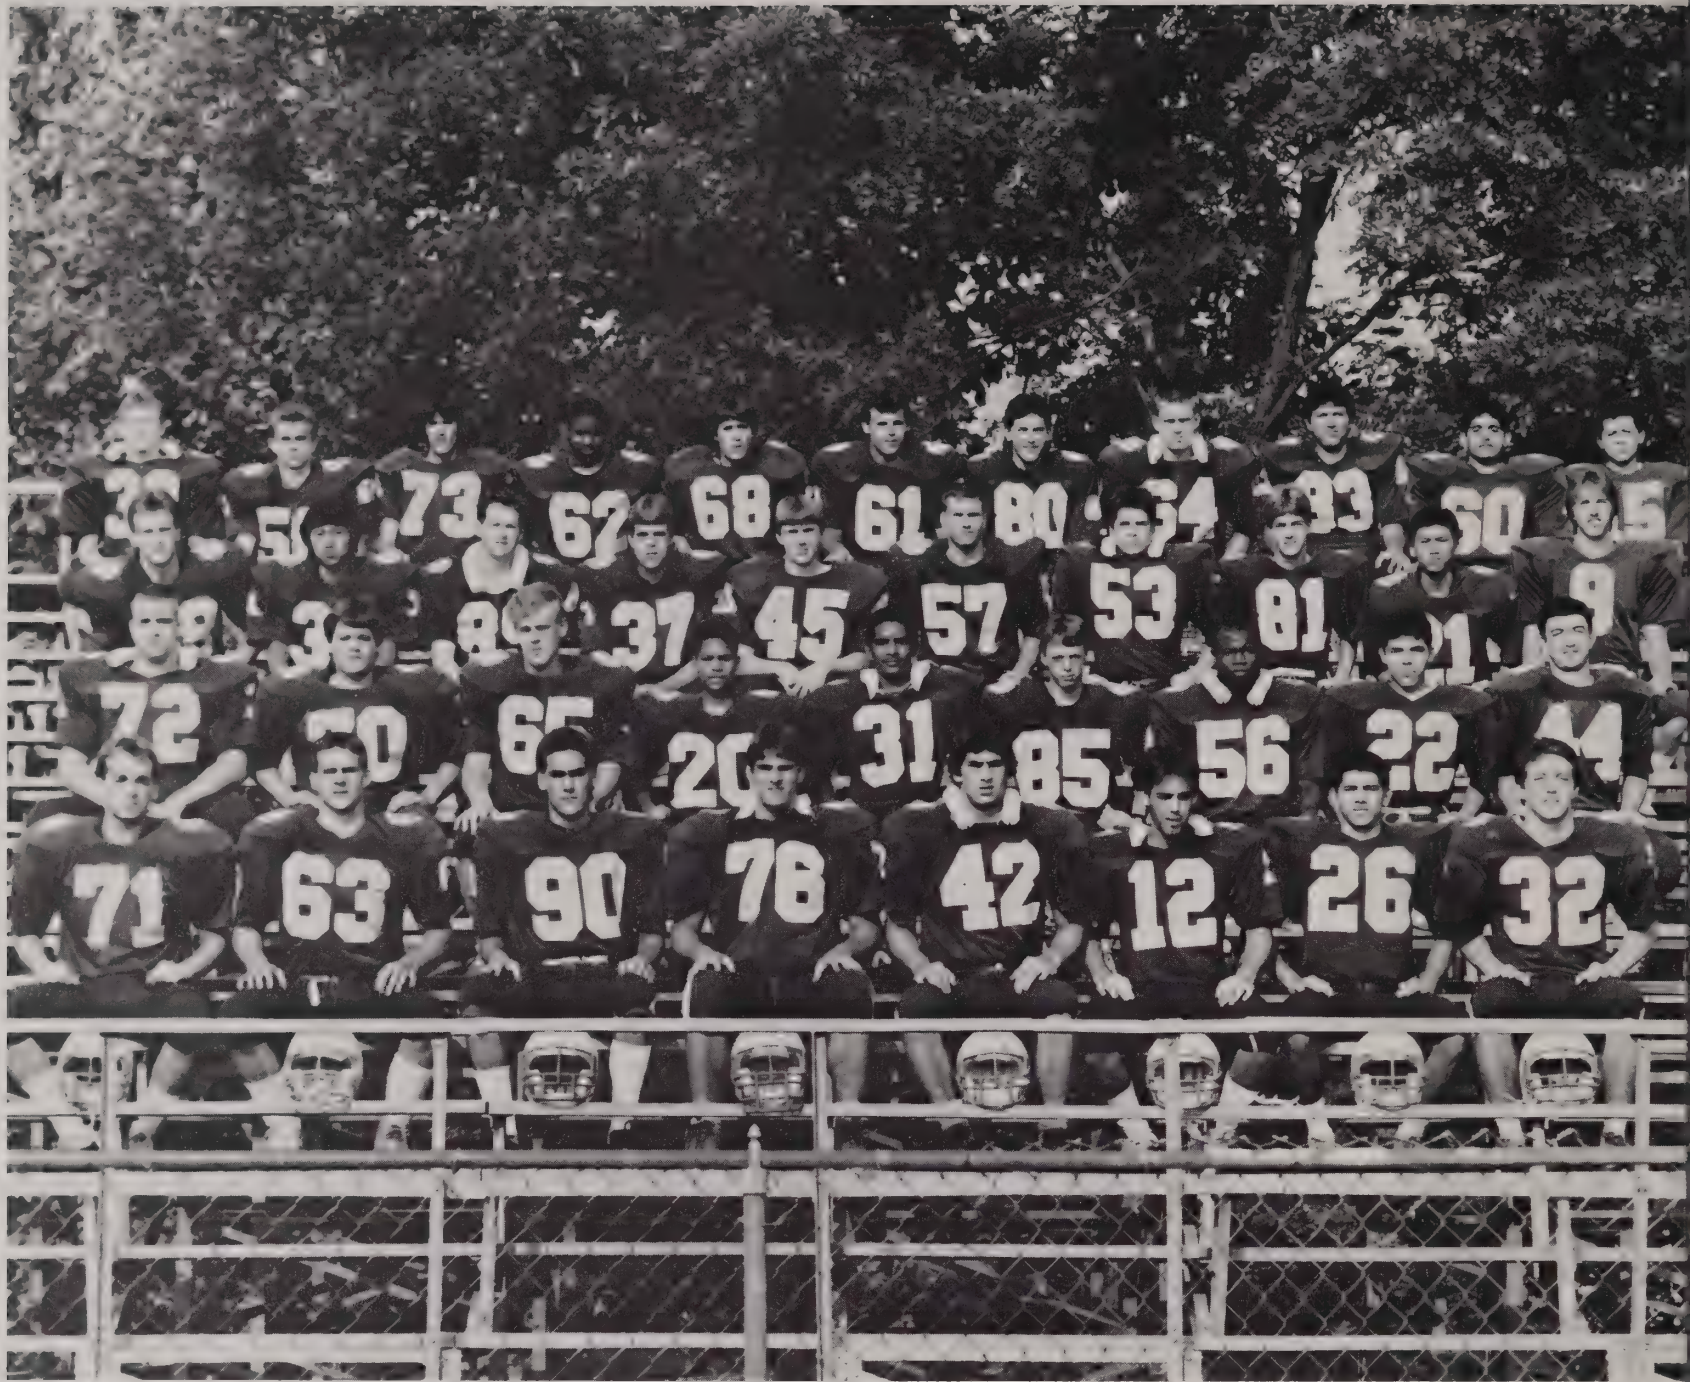

Many of the Golf team members were seniors and won't be playing for F.C. next year. Maybe they'll return as coaches?

This season was a season of learning and working for the Girls Tennis team, their enthusiasm never dimmed and they have a bright future ahead.

Tuff Luck for the Jags

It was a very disappointing season for the Varsity and J.V. football teams this year. Varsity had a record of 0-10. The J.V. sacrificed their season for the Varsity football team, because varsity was hurting for back-up players. It was one of those seasons, when everything seemed to have gone wrong. The spirit was there, and the crowds were in the stands. What wasn't there? Coach Humphries, one of the football coaches, said "lack of experience." Last year the majority of the players graduated, leaving less experienced players.

The support from the J.V. team filled some major gaps, such as Laurence Davis who played corner, and also sophomore "Thumper," who replaced senior Quang Do after an injury in the early season. During the Homecoming game against Robert E. Lee, quarterback, George Carter was injured, replacing him for the last two games was sophomore Luray Layne who was recruited from the J.V. team.

Senior Anthony Matus said "We had strong athletes and confidence in ourselves, our problem was we did not play as a team." Even though Falls Church did not win a game, captains Dan Mazzei, Mike Hills and George Carter pushed the Jaguars to their best abilities.

"I'm almost there."

"I got it, I got it!" screams Dan Mazzei

Baby Jags Prove They're Not Babies Anymore

This years Freshmen made a great impression on the coaches. They had a record of 4-4, losing only to Marshall, Chantilly, Stuart and Annandale.

The quarterback, Lee Leuppe, wide receivers, Shawn Johnson and John Bumgarnder, and tight end Eric Raily all worked together to help the baby Jags win. Ted Evans did an outstanding job blocking for tailback Javiar Pelham, who often handled the ball.

The freshmen team was basically organized by all of the coaches. One of the coaches, Mr. Murray, said "If we can keep these kids together over the next few years, it will be a good team." He also thought the Freshmen had alot of potential. Ted Evans, one of the strongest leaders of the baby Jags said "We worked together as a team, and it was alot of fun and hard work."

Freshmen Donny Dean and Coach Humphries look on as the baby Jags try for a win.

The Lady Jags certainly had a change in game plans this year, and although the J.V. field hockey didn't fair as well, the varsity ended their season (5)-(5) with coach Carla Thompson. We went behind the lines to talk to the players and get the real story. Most of the varsity players have been playing since their freshman or sophomore year and they feel they deserved a chance to have a winning season.

"I started my freshman year because I thought it would be interesting. Nobody else played or knew what it was," says Rebeca Graham.

Other than the general bumps and bruises, the Falls Church team did not suffer any serious injuries. Then again, "bumps and bruises are part of the game," states Judith Gough.

"We got a lot of support this year because we were winning," said Lisa Edwards. Most players did agree that the team got more recognition, and a bigger turn out, than in the past, but, "it could be better, we would appreciate more," Jackie Cannon says frankly.

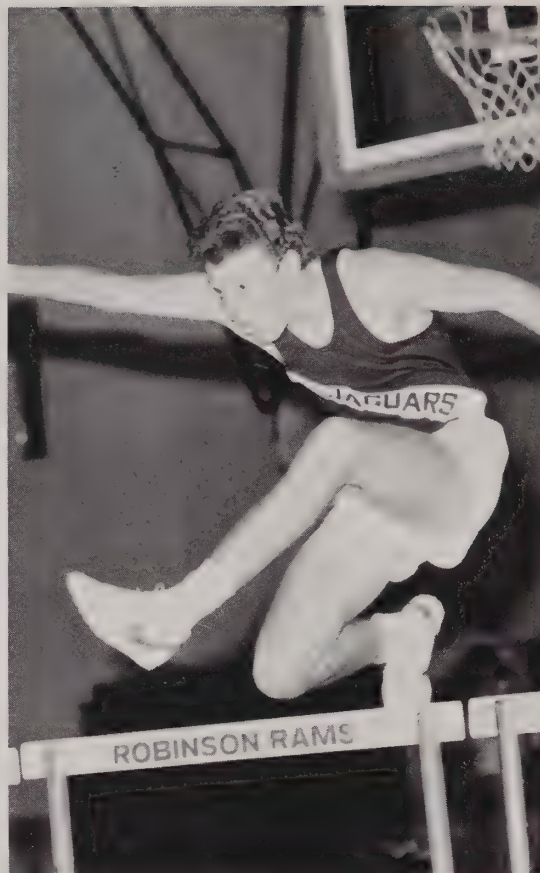

So, if you didn't go to the field hockey games this year, you'd better not miss next year's team!

Off and

Have you ever been walking through the gym lobby after school when suddenly, out of the clear blue, you are nearly trampled to death by a running mob of kids? Well, congratulations! You have just met the Falls Church high school indoor track team! These kids practice four times a week with their coach, the famous Major Wells. If you want the definition of the word dedication, just talk to one of the track team members. Many times, their meets are early Saturday mornings, usually around 7 a.m., which means they have to be at the school by 6:15 a.m.. Now how many people do you know who would be willing to make that kind of commitment? These kids definately add new meaning to the words off and running!

Cross-country? I didn't know this school had a cross country team. Well, we do, and boy do these people work! Not only do these kids run from between 5-10 miles during practice, but Coach Wells also wants each person to run before and after school, too. However, even though these kids are dedicated, and work hard to be the best that they can be, they still lack one thing, school support. When asked how much he felt the school supported the cross country team, William Pettis answered simply, "What support?". So, the next time you say you have school spirit, ask yourself when the last time was that you went to a cross country meet.

One final note of interest, after completing the "What Kind of Running Shoe do you Wear?" survey, Nike shoe "ran away" with the win over any other shoe, including the famous Reebok, as the "in" shoe of the Cross-country team.

Through the Clouds, Comes the Sun.

There was a silver lining in the cloud which surrounded the F.C.H.S. Girls tennis team this year. The cloud, as you know, was black, since the team didn't have any victories this season. What our team did have was continued improvement, a competitive outlook, and dedication to hard work during practice. These things are the silver lining in this black cloud, but the brightest part of the silver was the enthusiastic team spirit displayed by these players at each game throughout the season. We all look forward to the experience gained by the team this season to bring victory for the Falls Church High School team next year.

The 1987 Varsity Golf Team had a very disappointing season. Even though the loss of some of the matches was only by a few strokes, the record of the team was 0-8. The captains of this years team were: Dennis Willard, John Gieger and Pat Conolley. Tomas Miller was voted MVP for 1987. He placed 4th in the district tournament and qualified for regionals. The team was composed of mostly seniors, leaving three players to return next year.

With a combined score of 97-64 in the Falls Church city championship, the varsity basketball Jaguars are well on their way to a great year. Although the outlook was bleak with the loss of Jeff Wilson, P.J. Kelly, and Ian Salvary, it was greatly improved when the team regained George Carter, David Edwards, and Todd Hudson, all team captains. The Jags are also counting on and looking forward to the critical development of two key backups, Pat C. and Brian Ervin.

The only injury so far goes to Todd Hudson, who received a second degree sprain during a last minute jump shot with West Potomac, but that didn't stop the Jags. They won the game 78-75.

J.V. Basketball

Starting off your season with one loss and one win leaves the rest of your season up in the air. Just ask the Falls Church Boy's Junior Varsity team. With a 1-1 beginning it could be anyone's season. The Marshall game was a welcome victory. Jeff Clarke hit three free throws to push the score to a winning 55-58. The defeat at West Potomac was "Due to a poor offense" says Ray Weber. Assuming that everything will hold together, and the team will improve on working together, the J.V. Jags should have a great year.

Heads Up! We're Playing Ball

According to Coach Thorpe, the girls Junior Varsity basketball team seems to have a lot of promise this year, even though there is very little experience on the team. For most of the girls, this is their first year playing basketball.

Although the girls say that they really like playing on the team, they also say they could use some more school support. Cynthia Saine says, "You feel kinda silly when the other team's bleachers are full, and yours are empty. Especially when it's a home game."

What a Landing!

For only having six members, and no coach, this year's gymnastic team sure looked like it was in for "a hard fall". But instead, the members of the team have more dedication than ever. When asked why she joined the team, Traci Summerkamp answered simply, "To show school spirit.". Another popular answer to the question was "to letter in a sport".

Although this is a very young team and lacks experience, Stephanie Cintella, when asked what the team needed the most, summed up the situation by saying "We need a coach.".

The Junior Varsity Wrestling team seems to think they have a lot of talent this year.

Most of these guys got started in wrestling by their older brothers or friends but a few were inspired by one of the "great" varsity wrestlers. "I really admired Anthony Matus' talent," says Tony DeLeon.

Although the crowds have been a lot better this year at the matches, the J.V. team is still not happy with the turn out. "We would really appreciate more support," said Scott Leishear.

Support from the students is not all this team would like to see more of in the future. There seems to be a lack of financial support. "We go to these away matches and see all these schools with new sweats and loads of equipment and wonder "why don't we?," says sophomore Mike Dalkin. How 'bout it FCHS?

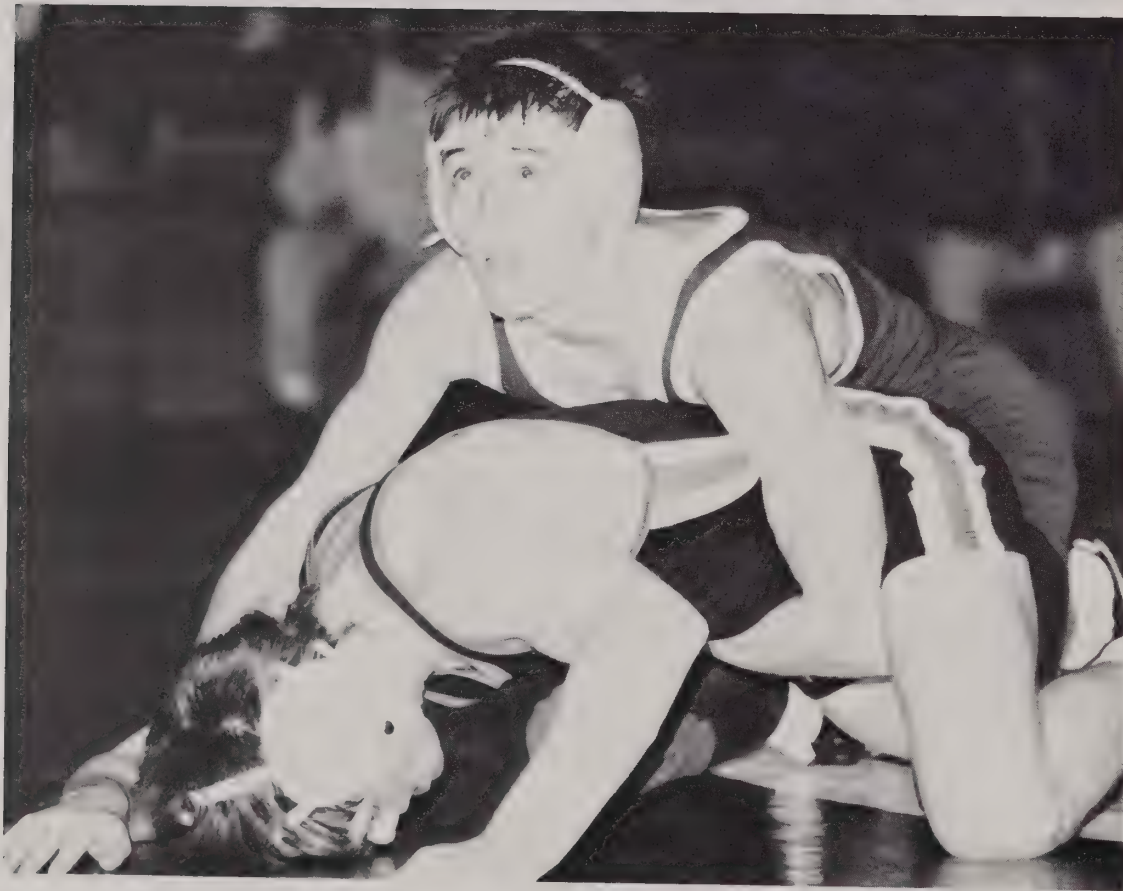

The teams to beat this year are the rivals at Annandale and, of course, the ever strong Fairfax. Go Jags!

FCHS takes to the Mat

What makes the Junior Varsity Wrestlers get started wrestling? Because there was somebody on the Varsity Team that they admired. When asked why he started wrestling, Mike Wiles said simply "Because of Dave Anderson, he's a legend." Why do the Varsity Wrestlers keep wrestling? "Once you start you can't stop", claims Ivan Erhardt. On the whole there's a very positive attitude about the Varsity team; more students are showing their support, and the wrestlers are already looking forward to the tournaments. When asked about future wrestling plans, Anthony Matus answered modestly, "the Olympic light weight."

Splash into the New Year

This year, the Falls Church High School Swim/Dive team is better than ever. It has more members and new coaches. Mr. Murray has taken over the job assisted by Mrs. West the new PE teacher. He is very enthusiastic about the team. "My hope is to have a Swim/Dive team consisting of over 100 members," states coach Murray. He also said that he wants "everyone in the school to join." The team practices every weekday from 3 to 4 (and there are optional Saturday practices) at the Providence Recreation Center since our school does not have a pool. The goal for the team this year is to come in 1st place in the District, for every member to letter, and much more school support at the meets.

SAY WHAT?!

Although cheerleading season officially starts the end of August, the cheerleaders begin their training by attending camp at the end of June. The camp was at the University of Maryland at the Baltimore campus. At this camp the Varsity and the Junior Varsity Squads were named Grand Champions of the camp. The Freshmen Squad was named Grand Champion Finalists.

There are 12 Varsity, 10 Jr. Varsity and 9 Freshmen cheerleaders. These girls cheer for the Fall and Winter sports seasons. The officers of the cheerleaders are Amy Callen, captain; Wendi Crouch, Co-Captain; Jenny Hummel, Corresponding Secretary; April Armstrong, Recording Secretary; Wendi Crouch, Treasurer; and Kim Barrett, Parliamentarian.

At the Fall Banquet Rebecca Graham, the Football Jaguar Mascot, was given the Spirit Award. Soo Chin is the Basketball Jaguar. Miss Susan Scott and Mrs. Linda Evans are the sponsors.

Top: Varsity Cheerleaders get psyched for spirit day at camp.

Not only do Varsity Cheerleaders have to perform during football season, but during basketball season too!!

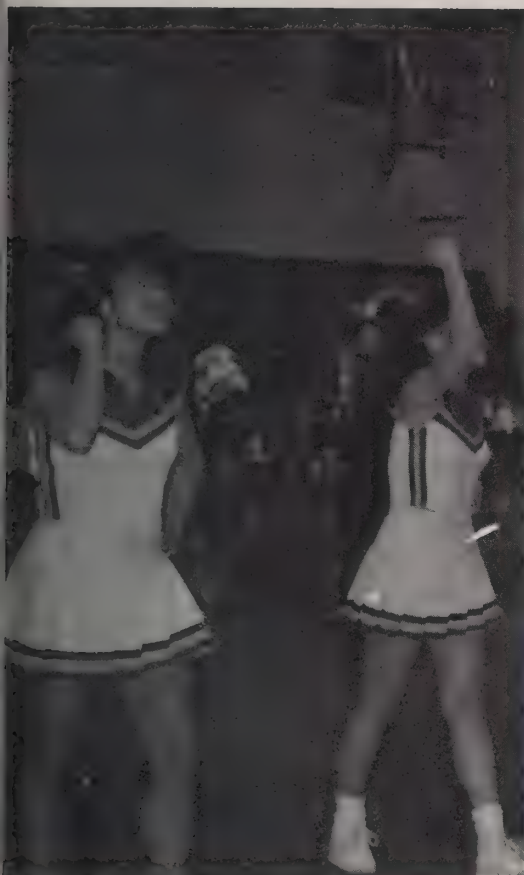

Say Cheese! As all the senior cheerleaders pose for their final picture.

Give me a "J"

Stretching is important to cheerleading as shown by Linda Grillo.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Two, Four, Six, Eight, who do we appreciate, the SPIRITED JV CHEERLEADERS.

These pictures show Sara Dickerson (far right) and Cyndi Sparshott, the "Koog" winners - what does koog mean - well they're the spirited ones, go ask them and find out.

FRESHMEN CHEERLEADERS

The End of a Season

The last game has been played and the crowd has gone home. That's it for many athletes. It's not time to start into a new segment of life. They will remember all the winning games, the agony of losing, false starts, and that small mistake that cost the match. All these will help make that athlete stronger in life. Never before did they appreciate the coach as much as now. It's hard to tell them thank you for helping me strive to be the best when you are running 10 agonizing miles. There is also that special teacher that should be thanked. You put up with me through my favorite sport; encouraging me, coming to my games, and staying after to help me study for a hard test. I appreciated it.

It's hard to go on. Only now at the end of a season reality has finally caught up and we must move on.

We know we're winners!

Thank god cross country is over.

Even the decorations must come down. The only consolation is next year we will be seniors!

After a disappointing meet, these girls plan a strategy for next week.

The Final Change

Mrs. Decker monkey's around.

Ray Parker show his determination to finish the race.

Every now and then it's fun to take a break.

Tuyen Duong spends time after school studying.

If you don't know who these men are: left is John Blackwell the new Guidance Director and right is Fran Bedont the Director of Student Activities.

We would also like to thank the entire faculty for their time and patience in helping us produce this yearbook.

Colophon

The 1987-88 Jaguar Yearbook was printed by the Jostens Printing & Publishing. The plant is located in State College, Pennsylvania. All captions are in 8 pt., body copy is 10 pt., sub-headings are in 18 pt., and main headings are 48 pt. Picture captions, body copy and sub-headings are printed in News Gothic. Main headlines are printed in News Gothic Bold. The 87-88 yearbook contains 208 pages which is equal to 13 signatures.

Small Changes??

The title of this article is an understatement at best. The 87-88 school year has been full of changes, both big and small. Not only did we start out with a new principal; Dr. Bart Kramer, but we were soon to have a new Guidance Director by the name of John Blackwell and a new Director of Student Activities named Mr. Fran Bedont. We were also greeted by 11 new teachers.

At the attendance center we were greeted by a new face- Mrs. Linda Richards. And we frequently saw Mr. Kinh Do, our new Building Engineer in the halls making sure our school was always in working order.

We learned that our school building would have a major renovation which includes air conditioning. The cost of the renovation will be approximately 11 million dollars.

In January we began to see new faces in nursing uniforms. The L.P.N. Program had moved to their newly renovated rooms in the Tech area.

As the year goes by the Freshmen who were so unsure in September are gaining confidence as they mature. Our Seniors are getting ready for graduation and are happy and excited, but a little sad that they will be leaving FCHS and their friends.

The year will end with the retiring of a legend - Mr. Major Wells who has taught math and coached our track teams. Also retiring will be Mrs. Welk and Mrs. Abell; these two teachers were also a great help to our school. Dr. Buchanan will be leaving us as well, but not to retire. He will be the Dept. Chairman of History at the new Braddock Park High School.

What will the 1988-89 school year hold? Only time will tell.

Matt Mills is obviously dreaming about future plans.

Socialization is a large part of school.

As school comes to a screaming halt, so does this hallway.
